England Buys Large Shipment Of Sonoma Valley Apples

Educational Week To Be Observed Here With Program

A FINE MARKET FOR APPLES IS FOUND ABROAD

Sonoma Valley apple growers are jubilant over the news that Sonoma apples shipped this season via the Panama Canal to England have found a ready market at fancy prices. The apples themselves were not fancy but were what is known as "C" grade, small apples which do not sell so well in this country. The firm quality and flavor of Sonoma apples cannot be equaled and the English trade prefers the smaller size fruit to the mammoth type sold here at big prices. A large shipment was therefore prepared for the new buyers, refrigerated and shipped by the water route where it arrived in splendid condition and commanded prices which will be a boon to local growers.

It is reported that the apple crop in England this year was a failure with the resulting brisk demand for the apples imported from Valley of the Moon orchards.

"JOLLY TIME IN DIXIE" NEXT FRIDAY EVENING

The show to be given at Union hall on Friday evening, November 21, for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid of the Congregational church, will be full of fun and pep. A large cast of colored folks and white folks among them Sonoma Valley's best actors, will be in the show.

The music will include many old favorites, with the addition of many good jazz numbers and a collection of the famous darkey "spirituals" which go straight to the heart of old and young. "Little David," and "I Know the Lord Has Laid His Hand On Me" are among the numbers

There will be the usual bazaar with sales of fancy work, a grab bag, white elephant booth, home made candy, ice cream and coffee.

BATES' SALE BIGGER SUCCESS THAN EVER

The S. O. S. sale conducted by Sid Amber for H. F. Bates proved to be one of the biggest and best yet, Harry Lindley, the genial salesman for Bates, declares that twice as much goods was sold at this sale than at the one last year. This record was achieved despite the fact that the crew of linemen and the highway workers were not in the valley to draw from, these men proving good spenders last year.

The success of the sale was largely due to the liberal use of printers' ink and advertising in Sonoma papers.

We create good will and make new friends by giving customers the benefit of these sales, declares the firm.

Boyes Springs Is Building Up; Has Skyscraper

Boyes Springs is building up, mostly up. Have you noticed the new skyscraper on the highway? No more do our busy Boyes folks cuss the road scraper. Now it's the skyscraper. Have you seen this two room marvel—this new type of architecture? "Boyes Springs Hotel, bigger and better than ever," so they have labeled it, but the perpetrator of this "Woolworth building" is a lady and does not answer back. It is evidently a duplex (or perplex) affair and looms up as a testimonial to Boyes Springs "climb it." Whether there is anyone upstairs or not is a question but there is an upstairs and the improvement looks like the rising tide of prosperity was due at the Springs. We have heard of spite fences, but the skyscraper at Boyes Springs has the spite fence faded to a frazzle.

SONOMA COUNTY LAND FOR TABLE GRAPES

Professor George Hussman of Napa and his brother, Fred Hussman, were in Santa Rosa Monday to meet with Sonoma county vineyardists relative to tests for table grape growing in Sonoma county. George Hussman, who is the government viticulturist in charge of the Pacific Coast experiment vineyards of the government, motored from Napa and conferred with County Farm Advisor H. A. Weinland and Horticultural Commissioner O. E. Bremner.

Experiments are to be undertaken, it is said, to determine the possibility of growing table grapes here and several test patches of such grapes are to be planted in the county, the test period to cover a number of years.

N. S. G. W. BASKET BALL PLAYERS FOR 1924

The players on the 1924-25 basket ball squad of the Sonoma Native Sons include such seasoned players as Bunker Dresel, Armand Franquelin, Dort Stockwell, the Prestwood brothers, Tom Palmer, Vic Erlebach, Eugene Robin and Joe and Antone Keiser.

OFFICIALS VISIT SONOMA Y. M. I.

Sonoma Council No. 45, Young Men's Institute, had an official visit Thursday evening from Grand President J. De Andries, Second Grand Vice President Thomas P. Scollan and and Grand Director George Regan.

There were visiting brothers from San Rafael, San Anselmo and Sebastopol and a splendid attendance of local members.

At the banquet which concluded the evening the Young Ladies' Institute participated.

Action Assures the Building Of Vineburg and Petaluma Highways

The petitions which have been in circulation for some weeks past calling for the creation of a road district to build eleven miles of paved highway between here and Petaluma and from the present Vineburg highway to the State Highway near the Napa County line, were placed on file with the Board of Supervisors at Santa Rosa Wednesday.

The petitions bear many signatures and pray for a road district whose confines extend from the Napa county line to Agua Caliente on the north and include all the land south to the bay shore. The Supervisors will now proceed to appoint an engineer to prepare plans and an estimate of cost of the work and if there is no protest from 51 per cent of the property valuations in the district, will proceed at once to start proceedings to lay out and construct the desired roads.

The road district seems the only solution whereby the highway system to connect Sonoma Valley with the bigger population centers can be accomplished. While there was considerable sentiment favorable to the county as a whole building the road, there are no funds available for this particular piece of work a bond issue would fail of passage and the only alternative would be to build a mile or two of highway at a time The latter expedient, it is pointed out would be penny wise and pound foolish for the delay in completing good roads would mean a loss of traffic and business which would be poor economy.

The present condition of the road out of Vineburg has kept a lot of trade from coming into Sonoma which was one reason why the business people of this city were keen to sign the petition asking for the road district. Traffic has been going to Napa instead of coming this way.

When the Petaluma delegation appeared here recently to urge the highway between the valley and that city, it was shown that much summer tourist traffic from the egg center was going to the Russian River because shut out from the Sonoma mineral springs and resorts by poor roads.

The road district lines have been drawn to include big territory that the cost of the improvement to the tax payers may be held down to a minimum.

Arrangements are under way for a large delegation from Sonoma county to attend the fourth annual conference of California Deciduous Fruit Growers, to be held in the College of Agriculture on the Berkeley campus November 19th to 21st, inclusive. Experimentation on fruit juices and by-products will also be demonstrated.

RULING MAY MAKE HOME WINE LEGAL

Five years after the passage of the Volstead Act, a federal judge has interpreted the measure in a manner that may have a far reaching effect on the future operation of prohibition.

Handing down a ruling on admissibility of evidence, Judge Morris Soper of the United States district court expressed the opinion Tuesday that congress never intended the arbitrary figure of one-half of 1 per cent to obtain as the legal limit of alcoholic content in cider and fruit juices made in the home.

The ruling is practically certain to be appealed to the United States supreme court, federal officers said.

Under Soper's decision manufacture of these beverages is no longer controlled by a theoretical standard of intoxicating properties, but becomes illegal only when the beverages are intoxicating in fact. The individual drinker, it would appear, must become intoxicated by the product before the government would have a case against him.

The court ruling was made in the case of Representative Phillip Hill, Maryland, who made wine and cider in his home, advertised the fact as widely as possible and then defied Prohibition Commissioner Roy T. Haynes to make a test case of it.

Sonoma County officials declare they will be guided by the decision in this case and will not interfere with home manufacture as long as it is not sold or transported. District Attorney Hoyle and Sheriff Boyes have so expressed themselves.

Buzz! Honey Week Hits The Calendar

Sweetest of all weeks on the over burdened calendar should be Honey Week, November 16 to 22. Bee keepers welcome it as a means of introducing honey into every home or promoting its more liberal use in homes where honey is always on the table or in the cookery. Every week is honey week for the busy bee, although some weeks of the past dry year were almost starvation points for the bee. Because of the lack of rainfall and shortage of sap, the bees almost starved to death and could be found in quantities anywhere there was the slightest sap. Many bee keepers put out sugar and water for their bees and thus saved the situation. In this land of milk and honey we should rejoice and also resolve to eat more honey. Sonoma honey, by the way, is about the best on the market. Try it.

OFFICIALS OF CAT SHOW VISIT SONOMA

The high officials of Persian catdom honored Sonoma last Tuesday by a visit. The following ladies inspected the beautiful Persians for which Sonoma is famous:

Mrs. J. W. Marshall, president of the Pacific Cat Club of San Francisco; Mrs. Leontine Mooney, secretary; Mrs. Hulda, last year's judge of the show and editor of the "Pacific Cat Journal"; Mrs. Frank DeCastro, judge of this season's show, December 5th and 6th; Mrs. W. C. Lynch, show manager and secretary of last year's show.

These ladies were attracted to our valley by the beautiful specimens shown at the Persian Society San Francisco cat show last year, where Sonoma owners captured both ribbon awards and cups. The catteries are to show quite extensively this year.

PALACE GARAGE AUTO CLUB HEADQUARTERS

The Palace Garage is headquarters for the National Automobile Club and with its full line of up to date equipment and tow car service, is able to give expert attention to the needs of members both day and night. The club has a large membership, which will no doubt avail themselves of the courteous and prompt service provided by Mr. Tracy.

TURKEY THIEVES GET IN SNEAKY WORK

If you have any turkeys which you are fattening for the holidays, better keep them locked up at night or put a good watch dog over them, for turkey thieves are again operating in the valley. Deputy Sheriff Ryan has been notified of several thefts, among them turkeys taken from the Douglas ranch, from Mrs. Eaton and others.

The officer is on the alert for the thieves and believes he has a clew which will lead to their arrest.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL PLANS PATRIOTIC PROGRAM TUESDAY

Citizenship Class and Public Will Be Shown Flag Movie at the Auditorium.

Educational Week, November 16th to 22nd, set apart by President Coolidge, will be observed in Sonoma and particular stress will be placed on Patriotic Day which falls on Tuesday. On the evening of that day the class of 22 aliens studying the English language and being prepared for their citizenship papers, meets as usual, with Professor J. F. Prestwood and Miss Alice Young, at the Grammar School, so it was decided to invite the class and the public in general to a big rally in the auditorium of the school that night. Miss Myra Green, in charge of Americanization work throughout Sonoma county, will speak, there will be patriotic selections by the high school orchestra, and a moving picture, "Makers of the Flag."

The public is cordially invited to attend this splendid program now being arranged in detail by Professor Prestwood.

SONOMA VALLEY GETS HARMFUL PUBLICITY

The San Francisco Bulletin of Friday, November 7th, came out with a political article by Frank B. Anderson in which Sonoma Valley is bawled out for its vote given La Follette. The Bulletin said:

"The seeds of Socialism planted by the late Jack London many years ago up in the Valley of the Moon in Sonoma county evidently took root, because returns from that neighborhood showed LaFollette to have polled a heavy vote."

The San Francisco paper evidently did not know that it was not the late Jack London, for he repudiated Socialism before he died, declaring that it was not fhat it was cracked up to be.

Just as the Index-Tribune predicted following the election, the valley is bound to get unpleasant and harfful publicity over its vote for the radical candidate, many voters not knowing that they were contributing to a Socialist plot to get the reins of govednment in this country.

REV. YOUNGMAN VISITS SONOMA

Rev. William H. Youngman of the Congregational church of Kenwood and Glen Ellen, paid Sonoma a visit Thursday. Mr. Youngman is filling the pulpit of the upper valley with great satisfaction and has greatly increased the attendance and interest in church work there.

A special topic with discussion has been announced for the winter and early spring months which is enlisting decided interest among Rev. Youngman's congregation. November 16th, tomorrow, the question as "Why Is Suicide All Wrong?" On November 30th, the topic for discussion is "Why Is the World Growing Better?"

EL VERANO NEWS

By ARCHIBALD McKIVER

Al Smith is again elected governor of New York and received a great majority in the Empire State. The Democratic convention made a big mistake when they passed up this great statesman as their nominee for president in the recent election. A great lawyer in congratulating Smith on his run pronounced him the eighth wonder of the world. The recent election with the defeat of Davis is one of the worst that has been given any presidential candidate in the last 100 years and has killed the Democratic party. Many who jumped the ranks of this party will not return and it is more than likely that some other party will take its place with young blood at the head. It should succeed and be a power in national politics.

G. Beck, Petaluma stockman and butcher, was transacting business in El Verano last week.

Henry Koerner, proprietor of the Oak Grove Resort, transacted business in Santa Rosa Monday.

Harry Andrews, San Francisco seaman and river sailor, left the the Summit last Saturday to visit relatives. He was on his annual furlough and had been looking the old Sonoma Valley over.

Mrs. P. Norrbom and son of Sonoma were visitors in Oakland on last Saturday Mrs. Norrbom being called there by the illness of her sister, who resides in that city.

Miss D. Dati, after a pleasant visit with San Francisco relatives, has returned to El Verano.

The Bellevue Hotel, El Verano, was sold at auction in Sonoma Wednesday and Giuseppi Griffanti who held the mortgage was the only bidder, the bid being $4327.50. The building is the first hotel built in El Verano when George Maxwell boomed the town 30 years ago.

Armistice Day was observed at El Verano Tuesday. Old Glory flew at half mast in respect to the heroes of the World War and all business houses were closed at noon.

Congressman and Mrs. Clarence F. Lea left Santa Rosa Monday for Washington, D. C. They have been spending some time at their Santa Rosa home. Lea was re-elected without opposition at the November 4th election. He has ably represented this district during his long term in office.

L. Mouyer, real estate agent, has paid insurance to M. Cox, formerly of this place but now of Oakland. Mr. Cox recently had a fire at his home in Oakland. Mr. Mouyer's car was badly damaged in an auto accident a short time ago, but the damage was taken care of by the insurance.

The late rain measured 2.01 inches which makes the total rainfall for the season up to Monday, November 10th, 8.26 inches, which is nearly as much as the total rainfall for last season. This will make 1925 a prosperous year. November will be a wet month says Father Rickard, padre of the rain

A special train made up of ten coaches having on board World War veterans enroute to Santa Rosa to take part in the Armistice Day services and ceremonies in that city, passed through El Verano Tuesday over the S. P. lines, from Vallejo.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Verdier and family motored to Sacramento Monday and spent the day with relatives in the Capital City.

Our local sharpshooters are oiling up their rifles and getting ready for the big turkey shoot to be given at the Stornetti Ranch near Schellville on Sunday, November 16th, and Sunday, November 23rd. El Verano will send out its crack shots and we will leave it to them to do their stuff and bring home many of the fine birds which will be up for prizes. Each year Mr. Stornetti gives a shoot which draws many lovers of shooting to his famous ranch, from all parts of Sonoma and Napa counties.

Ed Naughton, in the days of Tod Sloan a crack jockey and rider famous the world over, is enjoying the balmy climate of Sonoma Valley. Mr. Naughton is a resident of San Francisco and is enjoying his visit here.

Ernie Nevers, Stanford's great fullback, swung into action for the first time this season when Stanford battled Utah at the California memorial stadium last Saturday afternoon. Nevers is well known in Sonoma Valley having been connected with the National Ice Cream Company last year. His success on the football field is being watched by his boosters in the Valley of the Moon. Stanford won the game against Utah.

P. Hoyt of Lake County has been spending several days here, a guest of the Waldo family, Sonoma Vista.

Mrs. Chas. Cheney and father, William Durant passed through El Verano on Armistice Day, enroute for their home at Sparks, Nevada.

Mrs. E. Battersby of Sonoma Vista was a Sunday afternoon passenger on the S. P. for Oakland.

Miss Stella McGill, after spending several days with Antioch relatives, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Compton are at Boyes Springs for the winter months. Compton, who has been playing professional base ball in Texas, is popular with Sonoma Valley ball fans who are glad to see him back in the Valley of the Moon.

POPULAR OFFICIAL WAS IN VALLEY MONDAY

Coroner and Public Administrator Frank Phillips was in Sonoma Valley Monday on official business and the affable county officer was as usual warmly welcomed by friends and admirers over this way. Phillips has proven a very capable official and acted at all times in the interest of the many as against the few. His policy has been warmly commended and has kept him in office, the people of Sonoma county believing that he has done his duty and acted in their interest even at the risk of offending parties of influence and those seeking special privilege.

Highly commended by the grand juries, Coroner Phillips is pleased that he is giving satisfaction and the warm greeting accorded him from Lakeville to Glen Ellen Monday made Doc brimful of appreciation to the Sonoma Valley people for their loyal and continued support. "Tell my friends they can always count on me to do my duty," said Phillips. "I value their regard too highly to ever do otherwise than my very best to serve Sonoma county as it should be served."

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy O'Connell, who were so popular here last season when here with the ball team were in Sonoma Valley this week looking for a furnished home for the winter months. They were warmly welcomed back to the Valley of the Moon.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE AND MODIFICATION

President Coolidge gives evidence of being a God-fearing and religious man and is not in favor, quite evidently, of taking any of the honors away from the religious influences which have helped so largely in building up character in this country. He came out recently and said:

"There is no way by which we can substitute the authority of law for the virtue of man."

He goes further and tells us that righteousness is not a matter of legislation. We believe that the President realizes thoroughly that the prohibition laws are a failure for the very reason that the people cannot be legislated into perfection or changed overnight by reform laws. He must know that the country blundered in attempting to stop drinking or even drunkeness by legislation and that the short-cut to perfection has not resulted in the hoped-for perfection but has been the means of promoting lawlessness, even among those charged with law enforcement, where character is sorely tried and most often found wanting.

It is to be hoped that President Coolidge is thoroughly enough convinced of the futility of this experiment to shut down on further attempts to appropriate vast sums for the continuance of the fiasco. He can render his country a true service by pointing out the folly of it all and bringing back to normalcy the trend of the country to sobriety. There was an unmistakable trend, now gone far afield with the use of the miserable and crude drinks whose use prohibition has made common.

The modification program set on foot by the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment should well enlist the President's support, having expressed himself as he has on the futility of legislation running counter to the virtues and convictions of the people.

Modification is plainly necessary and evident to all except those now holding fat jobs in connection with enforcement. The utterance of a San Francisco prohibition chief that he will make the city dry by New Years is not to be swallowed by anyone, least of all by men with as keen minds as the President. Furthermore the people of the United States are not paying for that kind of dryness which is only liquor drinking run from pillar to post, driven from the open to under cover places and means that the demand will not cease but that the drinking public must drink behind closed doors and may have to substitute the product of illicit distillery for the better grade of drink, or guzzle new wine instead of the clear, sparkling vintage once the pride of California. It is costing the United States millions to police people who should never be policed and that is the grievance in a nut shell.

With these people satisfied and enlisted on the side of a sane law such as modification would provide the country of President Coolidge and the country of us all would fast attain the reputation of the most temperate nation on earth, a far more-to-be-desired reputation than a dry nation. The former indicates character, the latter lack of it.

WOMEN GOVERNORS

It will be interesting to watch the trend of events in states where women have been elevated to the job of Governor. The ladies may run the States the best in the world, but we believe there never was a time when the country needed women in the home more than now. It is a fact that the old fashioned mother who eschewed politics seems to have turned out better type citizens than we have today. Practical, sane, thinking man and women not given so much to experiment and bizarre treatment of social problems came out of the old fashioned home.

The children of a generation ago were easier to curb. With the division of mother influence between the home and the outside world vigilance has been relaxed and the present generation is admittedly a problem.

Where home influence has been lacking we are told that young criminality has flourished and young criminals are now in the majority. Let us therefore, look askance on women geeting any deeper into politics and let us think thrice before we take a mother out of any home and think we are elevating her by giving her a governorship or any other big job.

The woman on the pedestal is a thing of the past, but enthroned in her home and finding therein her greatest sphere of usefulness should be the aim of all women who love America and would foster its highest ideals. This does not mean that the American woman should be out of touch with the world. She can no longer be isolated. The intelligent active, well informed woman functioning as the head of her home, cooperating and going hand in hand with her husband and children, keeping up to date, moulding younger minds to high ideals, preparing, perhaps, young men for their ultimate duties as officials even governorships seems the best arrangement, with wide opportunities for even the most ardent and active feminists.

Women who help govern homes have problems and duties before them which make political jobs mere trifles.

THE NEW STATE BOXING COMMISSION

Boxing is no longer to be outlawed but is to be an officially recognized sport. The virile, red blooded citizen of California expressed himself at the recent election wherefore 12-round contests put on and conducted under the supervision of a boxing commission has been decided upon.

The Governor is being importuned to make certain appointments on this Commission. Some of them jokes, for it is plainly the intent of some seeking the job to obstruct and reform the game so that it may be one-half of one per cent sport, a kickless pastime, so to speak. We have faith that Governor Richardson will appoint clean cut men who know something of the game, he-men who appreciate the manly art of self defense, have had experience in the sport and are keen enough to stage contests of a high order. There is a big percentage of people who like the game when conducted on the square and pulled off right, and if a commission wise enough to the personnel of those in the game and familiar with handling contests is appointed we may expect California to take high place as a Western state successfully promoting the sport. Molly coddles, peck-sniffs and reformers have no business on the commission any more than plug-uglies, gangsters or dive keepers. What California wants is enthusiasts of clean athletics, wise to the game, with a popular following, men who will promote the sport that it may be an asset to the young manhood of the country, helping keep them fit and virile and true to the rules of good sportsmanship. Men of the Rooseveltian type—rough-riders, not rough-necks, is what California requires on this job.

WOMAN'S CLUB NOTES

The regular business meeting of the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club was called to order by the president, Mrs. R L. Watt on Friday, November 7. Despite the fact that it was a stormy day, there was a large number presen which shows that our Club members are taking a renewed interest in club work.

Two new members were taken into the club and we hope they will enjoy and be active in the club.

Regarding the giving to disabled soldiers, it was decided our club should give games. Any games or cards will be gladly received and sent. All members or friends in the community who wish to add Christmas cheer to those who fought for us and are now disabled soldiers, can do so. All you have to do is to take your donation to Mrs. L. H. Green, who is chairman of the committee or take donations to the club house on Friday, December 5th. If the sender will put name in the package, the one getting the package will be only too glad to write to the giver. Everyone is requested to give, and also wrap and tie the packages so it will be easier for the committee to pack.

Dr. Allan McGrath kindly donated his services to the club for the baby Clinic which is to be held later.

Mrs. Nell Clements, Mrs R. Hotz and Miss Jessie Hiser were appointed for the card party.

New cupboards have been added to our kitchen which makes it much easier for those serving.

The club wishes to thank Mr. Adler for his donation of moulding for the club room, as it adds greatly to the appearance of the room.

The next meeting will be on November 21st, and this will be a social meeting. Miss Mildred Burchard will be the leader and Mrs. Emma Hotz will be hostess. The subject chosen for the day is one that all Californians should be interested in, "Save the Redwoods," as California is the only place in the world where these trees are found. Let's all go and join in an enthusiastic meeting.

PERLE HUNTER,
Club Reporter.

GARDEN OF EDEN IN CHINA?

Logical Reason for Its Location There Has Been Advanced by Government Surgeon.

If the theory of evolution is not a fact, Adam, according to Dr. Charles Stiles, government surgeon, noted zoologist, scientist and discoverer of hookworm germs, must have survived for 930 years all the germs which afflict men today; the Garden of Eden must have been in China, and Noah must have taken the germs in and out of his ark as easily as he did the larger forms of life. If it is to be conceded that those germs were originally created in some form other than as disease germs, the theory of evolution stands admitted.

"Since disease germs are dependent for their existence on animals and plants in which they cause disease, it is clear that these germs could not have been created or existed prior to the creation of their victims," Doctor Stiles declares. "A challenge of this deduction would be an admission that the germs were not created as they are today, but that they later evolved into disease germs; but this would be an admission of evolution."

Admitting that Adam survived these, Doctor Stiles says, it must be deduced that the Garden of Eden was in China, because that is the only place where man is known to survive many diseases with which the human body is afflicted.

Hanseatic League in Germany.

The Hanseatic league was a politico-commercial association established in 1241 by certain cities of northern Germany for mutual benefit and protection. It was organized by Hamburg, Bremen and Lubeck, and ultimately included 85 towns. Its affairs were controlled by a diet called the Hansa, which met every three years, generally at Lubeck, and dictated the policy of the association. In 1348 the league proclaimed war against Waldemar, king of Denmark, and in 1428 against Eric, with 40 ships and 12,000 troops, exclusive of seamen.

The league virtually dissolved in 1620, having been greatly injured by the Thirty Years' war. The rise of commerce in the Low countries during the Fifteenth century also contributed materially to its decline. In 1879 Hamburg, Bremen and Lubeck, the last remaining cities of the league, were incorporated into the German empire.

Thoughts for Thanksgiving

The Thanksgiving season ushers in the holidays and Sonoma Valley will observe the time-honored custom of feasting and showing the spirit of generous impulse which is traditional with the American people. The advertisers may be relied upon as business people keen to please you. Give them your consideration, whether it is a stove with which to cook the Thanksgiving turkey, the choice of a fine fat bird or "good eats," the selection of a suit of clothes, candy for Thanksgiving Day or a tire for that holiday trip. The advertisers are here to serve you. Watch for their announcements and give them your patronage.

Paul Loncon, a barber of San Francisco who had come to Sonoma Valley for his health, and was a guest at the former Maurel Villa, was found dead in his chair Monday about noon. He had partaken of a hearty breakfast and appeared to be all right, but heart failure evidently came swift and fast and he was beyond help when discovered.

Coroner Phillips held an inquest and determined that heart failure had caused death.

A receipt for a deposit on a barber shop which deceased was about to purchase was found on his person. He was about 55 years of age.

High School News

By NORMAN HEGGIE

On Friday, November 14th, a delightful play, "Enter the Hero," several musical selections by the high school orchestra and five reels of interesting educational pictures were presented to a large audience at the high school auditorium. Dancing followed the pictures. The Student Body has scheduled a series of motion pictures, each to be accompanied by a varied program of music and a one-act play, followed by dancing. Those of the public who do not attend the entertainments miss a program which is both interesting and instructive. The next program to be presented by the Student Body will feature "The Marriage Proposal," a humorous one-act play. Don't forget to come and enjoy yourself.

Last Sunday the members of the orchestra and the musical theory class went to San Francisco to hear the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra at the Curran Theatre. Because of the heavy rain, the students left Sonoma at 10 a. m., instead of 8:30 as had been planned. They lunched at the Clinton cafeteria instead of picnicing at the park. The Symphony was enjoyed by all. Watch for the expression and harmony displayed by our orchestra in the future.

A Civic Club was organized by Mr. Golton last Friday. The purpose of this club is to train members to carry on a meeting in proper parliamentary form and to be able to stand up and express themselves clearly to others. The membership will be limited to 25 members. Walter Carter has been elected temporary president and Norman Heggie temporary secretary. A committee of five was appointed by Chairman Carter to frame a constitution. The high school is badly in need of such a club, as only a few students really take active part in the Student Body meetings, and we know that many of them have important ideas to bring up for discussion at the meetings, but because they are afraid of being unable to express their thoughts properly, the idea is never brought to light.

The Girls' Athletic Association held the first meeting since the election of officers on Friday. Amy Locarnini, the new president, took the chair and an interesting discussion on hikes and parties took place.

The . F. B. basket ball team defeated the Petaluma J. F. B. team on last Friday afternoon in the Petaluma Junior Hi building. The Sonoma unlimited team won by a score of 35 to 3, Mike Kiser being the star in this game. The local 130 pound team won with a score of 13 to 7. "Babe" Mazza and Albert Pallandini starred.

The girls have one more baseball game to play to finish their interclass baseball tournament and it is probable that the Juniors will capture the honors as they are in the lead now. After the baseball tournament is finished, the girls will have an interclass volley ball tournament.

Due to heavy rain, the tennis match with Analy had to be postponed. If the weather permits, our team will play Analy this week. Go to it, you wielders of the racquet.

While the program was giong on a ttlie P. T. A. Meeting last Friday night a bird flew in through one of the windows. "Put on your hats, it's a woodpecker," exclaimed a bright boy.

Because of the heavy storm last Friday the program for the P. T. A. meeting was postponed until the next regular meeting. The few who did go to the auditorium last Friday evening played games and danced, all present spending an enjoyable evening despite the weather.

This week is the beginning of the second quarter of the school year. Report cards for the first quarter are to be given out this week. Students are all buckling down in an endeavor to make higher marks this quarter, if possible.

Miss Warthorst, in her biology class, is endeavoring to inspire future farmers and farmerettes of the valley with the study of plant nutrition and crop rotation.

The individual system is proving very satisfactory in the physics class. Through this system the students have to understand thoroughly each assignment in order to pass an examination in this assignment before they can go on with the next. Kenneth Germeshauser and Andrew Anderson were the star pupils in the class all during the first quarter.

The U. S. history class has received a series of historic novels to impress the different periods of history on their minds. Some of these are "The Virginian," A Maid of Old Manhattan," "Girls of '76," "Child Life In Colonial Days," "The Last American Frontier," and many other interesting novels.

The social science class is now having debates. The following questions have been debated upon: "Resolved, that the closed shop is justified," and "Resolved, that there should be compulsory arbitration of labor disputes."

The members of the free-hand drawing class are making pretty and appropriate posters for Thanksgiving. Each student is originating his own drawing.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mohr and Mr. and Mrs. August Pinelli motored to San Francisco Monday evening to attend the Armistice Day program.

NEWS, COMMENT AND FIGURES

Chicago, November 8.

GRAINS—Cash wheat and futures purchased in large quantities, by foreigners, with heavy covering by foreign shorts and also free buying by the northwest and cash interests swept prices up sharply to a new high on the crop, May touching $1.57¾ and closed at $1.57⅛ to $1.57¼ with a net gain of 2 cents. December gained 1⅝ cents and closed at $1.51⅝ to $1.51¾, while July was ⅛ cent higher at $1.37⅞. Corn was up 1½ to 1⅞ cents, and oats ⅜ to ½ cent, while rye gained 2½ to 3⅛ cents for the day.

Grain markets completely reversed their recent action the past week, lower prices on the downturn being made on Monday followed by a sensational advance, which lifted wheat 7⅞ to 13¾ cents from the bottom and the finish was at net gains of 5⅜ to 11¼ cents, with December leading. Strength in wheat was the main influence in coarse grains, with corn 4⅛ to 5⅜ cents and oats 3¼ to 3½ cents higher than the previous week, while rye advanced in a sensational manner and closed at net gains of 15¾ to 17¼ cents.

Provisions were slow in getting started, but at the last lard was up 45 to 55 cents, ribs 65 cents and bellies 60 cents for the week.

Foreign news was distinctly bullish, with the Australian exportable surplus of wheat estimated at 75,000,000 bushels. Cables reported the wettest season in that country in thirty-four years. Argentina cables told of frost in the south affecting wheat and flaxseed and estimated the exportable surplus of 112,000,000 to 123,000,000 bushels, compared with 175,000,00 bushels last year.

DAIRY—Butter: Local trading was light with no change in prices. There was some shipping demand, but business generally was light and the tone of the market was barely steady. The movement out of storage was heavy, but some butter also went into storage. Receipts this week, Monday to Friday, were slightly heavier than last week.

Cheese: Prices did not advance during the week; however, business was very good with active trading in all types. Stocks of fancy cheese were well cleaned up and some dealers report orders awaiting the arrival of goods.

Eggs: Demand for fresh eggs fell off during the week and trading generally was dull. Extras declined 2 cents and extra pullets ¼ cent since last Saturday. Eastern shipping business was active, and cars are moving by express out of the Petaluma section.

There was some improvement in the demand for wine grapes and good quality stock brought fairly high prices for this time of the year.

A summary of conditions throughout the state shows that harvesting operations are going on fine and are favored with fairly good weather. A large production of sugar beets is predicted. From present indications the crop will be very much larger than last year, though figures are not available yet.

Receipts of celery were increasing and good stock was quoted $2@3 per crate. Best lima beans were in fair demand at 8@10c per lb. Sacked carrots were moving slowly at lower figures. Local tomatoes were showing a wide range in quality and practically no fancy stock is arriving.

Editor for State Printer

Sacramento.—G. B. Gabbert, newspaper publisher of Riverside and president of the Southern California Editorial association was offered the position of state printer, succeeding Frank J. Smith, who was selected by the state board of prison directors to become warden of San Quentin prison on January 1. In announcing that he had tendered the $5,000 position as head of the printing department to Gabbert, the governor said the Riverside man had wired he would take the matter under advisement.

camp at Boyes Springs is being regretted by lovers and followers of the great national game. The managers of the San Francisco ball team have signed up to have their stars do their stuff at Fresno this season. The Chamber of Commerce of the Raisin City has been working hard to land the Seals for that city and as there is a first class ball park and accommodations there which are now lacking at the Sonoma Valley camp since the burning of the hotel at Boyes Springs, the ball tossers will set camp at Fresno early in February.

Mr. Durant and his daughter contemplate a trip East in the spring and expect to visit five sisters and brothers of Mr. Durant who reside in various states of the Middle West.

REBEKAHS CARD PARTY WAS WELL ATTENDED

Our Bureau of Public Relations specializes on complaints—their correction and prevention. It encourages constructive criticism and welcomes suggestions from our patrons and the public—that good service may be maintained or further improved.

It strives to inculcate the spirit and secure the application of the Golden Rule in all business relations between the company and the public it serves.

SHRINERS PUT ON "MIKADO" IN CITY

More than 40,000 persons, including Shriners and Master Masons and their families from throughout California, are expected to journey to San Francisco to witness the elaborate revival of the famous comic opera, The Mikado, to be staged in the civic aditorium in San Francisco November 18th to 22nd, inclusive, by Islam Temple of the Mystic Shrine.

Potentate William H. Worden, in general charge of the production, has announced that reservations are coming in from throughout the state and a record attendance is expeced at all six performances of the opera.

In addition to an all-star cast, including such veterans of the stage as Ferris Hartman and J. Aldrich Libby, known to thousands of theatregoers throughout the country, there will be a mixed chorus of 200 Shriners and their wives and daughters. Many of San Francisco's most prominent society girls will take part in the affair.

Mrs. Annie Church Dixon of San Francisco has been visiting at her ranch south of town, the Tony Marcucci place. Mrs. Dixon, as Annie Church, was a belle of old Sonoma and one of the handsomest girls of her day. She still retains her good looks and vivacity and is the mother of a grown son, Leland Spaulding, who makes his home with her in the metropolis.
